Ostomy Product Samples

Receiving free samples is a great way to “try before you buy” an ostomy product before committing to buy them. Ostomy products are expensive and we at Lifecare Ostomy want to make sure a person is in the right product for their ostomy and their lifestyles. We provide free samples of ostomy products from our locations. If there is a product that we don’t have available at the time, the manufacturer can send free samples to your home. Ask us how.

Tips for ordering samples from companies

When requesting samples either online or speaking with a company rep, they will ask a series of questions about what type of ostomy you have and current products to help select a suitable product(s) to sample.

If you know your product numbers of what you are currently using, this will help the rep in the selection process.

Your ostomy nurse (NSWOC) may suggest a specific brand and model number to request. Please tell the rep the name of the ostomy nurse you are working with. The company reps often know who that nurse is.

For manufacturer privacy and security reasons, your ostomy nurse will often ask you to contact the company directly.

Some manufacturers do not contact the ostomy nurse to let them know what samples have been sent because of their privacy policies. If you try the samples and prefer them over your existing products, please contact your ostomy nurse and retailer to let them know if you would like to purchase the samples you tried. If the products
